Canyon, County Chalk Up Progress In '63

It was, in the phrase of Charles Dickens, the best of times, the worst of times.

In 1963 more Americans produced more goods, spent more money, lived materially better than ever before.

They also quarreled more bitterly, complained more stridently, watched with fear and rage as a surge of Russian imperialism washed within 90 miles of U. S. shores.

And on Nov. 22 they shuddered under the impact of the event that overshadowed all others of national or local significance in 1963--the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

On the local level, 1963 brought its share of mixed good and bad news, but in Canyon and Randall County the report seems, on balance, to reflect rather more of good than bad.

Highlights of the local news year included some forward strides at West Texas State University; completion of a big new elementary school plant; the wheat referendum; a building record in Canyon; dedication of the Panhandle Heritage Foundation in Palo Duro State Park.

On the darker side of the news, Randall County read that a well known building contractor, Dewey Hicks of Amarillo, was charged with murder in the slaying of two Amarillo men. In midyear, Hicks took his own life.

And on the sports front, the Eagles basketball squad reached state finals play, only to miss the crown by six points.

WT Comes Of Age--

On April 4, 1963, Gov. John Connally signed into law a bill elevating West Texas State College to university status--first of a series of events which has brought WT a long way from the West Texas Normal School of yore.

The event was celebrated on the WT campus by a dance and a barbecue, then dancing again until the late hours.

Next big step in the evolution of a fullfledged university came in the final week of May, when WT was notified that the Atomic Energy Commission had made a $10,000 grant for use in the instructional field of atomic energy.

Early in December the first equipment arrived on campus and was set up by William R. (Bill) Wilson, associate professor of physics, in preparation for an expanded curriculum in nuclear laboratory techniques.

Last and biggest step in the development of university facilities came Nov. 21, when Dr. James P. Cornette, WT president, announced receipt of a $500,000 grant from the Killgore Foundation of Amarillo.

The grant will be applied to construction and equipment of a Killgore Research Center which will house laboratories for graduate research in the life sciences, physical sciences and mathematics. Target date for completion of the center is 1965.

New School Plant--

On Nov. 17 the big new addition to Rex Reeves Elementary School went on formal show at an open house that included a new band and vocational arts building at Canyon Junior High School.

Visitors to the elementary school saw a modern building that exactly doubled the capacity of the school and made it the largest elementary school in Texas, perhaps in the nation.

The addition to the school plant was financed by a $600,000 bond issue.

And even as parents admired, Canyon school administrators eyed the climbing enrollment and began thinking about a new school building.

Supt. Huelyn W. Laycock said 1963 enrollment in Canyon schools totaled 1,947--an increase of approximately nine per cent over 1962. Of this total, 1,147 students were enrolled in the elementary schools.

C. W. JARVIS

C-C Guest Speaker Is Announced

Time's drawing near, and you need to get that ticket.

The Chamber of Commerce annual banquet will be held at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 9 in the East Cafeteria at West Texas State University, and tickets are on sale for $2.50.

Main feature for the evening will be a talk by Charles W. Jarvis, San Marcos dentist and a noted after dinner speaker.

Jarvis spoke last year at the banquet and his talk received such favorable notice that he was asked back this year.

Jarvis is a graduate of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, and the University of Texas School of Dentistry in Houston. He has served as president of the Kiwanis Club in San Marcos and is an elder in the First Christian Church.

Jarvis served as carrier pilot in the U. S. Navy for three years and is a veteran of World War II.

Tickets for the banquet are available at the Chamber office and from any board member. Tickets will also be available at the door Thursday night.

Historical Review Now Available

Paperback copies of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Review for 1963 are now available at Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, curator Boone McClure announces.

The review sponsored and published by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society features a roundup account of the Battle of Adobe Walls by a British teacher and historian who has devoted much research to the history of the American Southwest.

Other items of interest include depositions taken by federal commissioners from the survivors of the Adobe Walls fight, when a handful of frontiersmen stood off a Comanche and Cheyenne Indian attack.

Copies of the review are priced at $5 each. Approximately 300 copies are available to the public, the remainder of the current printing being reserved for members of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

McClure said the annual meeting of the society has been scheduled here for Friday, May 8. Program and speaker will be announced.

Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State University, is president of the society for 1963-64. Membership currently totals about 700, McClure said.

Death Ends Career Of Famed Former Teacher

Death has taken Miss Mary Moss Richardson - but the remembrance of this former Canyon teacher in whose character faith and works were so effectively joined will continue to brighten lives of thousands of persons in Randall County, and not a few now living at far corners of the world.

"Mother Moss" came to West Texas State University in 1921 as an instructor in English. Twenty-three years later she retired, having achieved distinction as a teacher and an expert on the life and works of Robert Browning.

But more impressive than any academic distinction was the legend of a personality and a philosophy so unique that they left their mark on everyone who came her way. Miss Richardson's life was "surprised by joy" on Sept. 3, 1890, when she was, in her own words, "joyfully and completely saved." Fifty years later she sent out gold-printed invitations to her friends that they might rejoice with her in 50 years spent "in the Courts of the Lord."

Her life ended Monday morning at Hillhaven Convalescent Home in Amarillo. She was 89 years old and had been hospitalized since 1959.

Funeral services were conducted at 11 a.m. Wednesday in the First Methodist Church of Canyon. The Rev. Newton Starnes, pastor, officiated, and burial was in Dreamland Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Scott Downing, L. H. Brotherton, A. M. Roberts, George Dowlen, A. C. Haley Jr., and Wilford Taylor Jr.

Miss Richardson was born in 1874 at Paris, Texas. A sister preceded her in death. She is survived by a brother, Adm. J. O. Richardson, USN (Ret), who was a fleet commander in the late 1930s, and by two nieces, Mrs. Mary White of Bridgeport, Texas, and Mrs. D. C. Chambers of Paris.

Wheat Booster

The three to four inch snow which covered Randall County Sunday will bring some much needed moisture to the wheat crop.

An estimated 0.45 inch of moisture will add to the topsoil moisture and will reduce the harsh effects of cold weather on the wheat crop.

Most of the damage to wheat from cold weather comes during dry very cold spells when the top growth is browned and dehydrated from the low temperature.

Cattlemen had to put out some extra hay and step up the protein supplement feeding as snow covered wheat fields and the supply of dry forage which cattle browse on.

This was not a severe storm for cattle, however, since temperatures were not extremely low and quick thaw followed.

M. B. Measamer reported 4 1/2 inches of snow in Canyon from the storm that hit Sunday morning. He estimated the moisture at .45 of an inch.

Measamer said this brought the total for the year to 17.45 inches of moisture, which is nearly three inches under the average.

New Randall Grand Jury Panel Listed

Jury commissioners for Randall County have drawn a panel of 16 persons from which 12 will be selected Jan. 6 to serve as grand jurors for the January term of 47th District Court.

The new grand jury will be impaneled Jan. 6 when Dist. Judge Gene Jordan is also scheduled to set trial dockets for the month.

Members of the jury panel are David Kritser, 2820 Crockett, Amarillo; David Beck, 2815 Hughes, Amarillo; Frank P. Cornett, Wildorado; Jozach Byrd, Box 397, Canyon; Thomas J. Dacus, 4808 Gary Lane, Amarillo; Ralph Ruthart, Rte. 1, Canyon; Arthur M. Standefer, 4614 Matador Trail, Amarillo; Ferrell Abbott, 2509 11th Ave., Canyon; W. H. Gattis, 3803 Doris, Amarillo; Boyce Box, 6501 Dreyfus, Amarillo; T. C. Gooch, Rte. 2, Happy; Ray Love, 2904 Marrs, Amarillo; M. H. Puckett, 2815 Crockett, Amarillo; Gordon R. Williams, 5301 Andrews, Amarillo; Lloyd McAtee, 1213 6th Ave., Canyon; C. C. (Jack) Sutton, Rte. 1, Happy.

WHAT WEATHER! These two beauties demonstrate how radically the weather in Canyon changes in just 24 hours. This picture was taken Monday morning only hours after a 4 inch snow storm hit Canyon Sunday. But, Cathy and Cyntha Gerald, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gerald, were comfortable in shorts and slacks Monday morning as they worked on their friend the snowman. Bright sunshine rapidly melted many snowmen which appeared on lawns in the area.

Stronger Programs Outlined

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce Monday elected new officers, installed four new members of the board of directors and accepted an evaluation report which includes a specific program for making the agency a powerful and effective force in the growth of this community.

Charles Donnell, Canyon theatre owner, former mayor and a former chamber president, was returned to the presidency, succeeding Huelyn W. Laycock. H. R. Fulton Jr., Canyon florist, was named vice president and Bill Davis, Canyon insurance man, was elected treasurer.

New directors to serve for three years are Benny Cooper, Charles Donnell, Jack Jennings and A. C. (Jack) Haley.

The report presented Monday by Paige Carruth, general chairman of the committee on evaluation, is the product of several weeks' intensive work by six subcommittees and will be submitted for consideration by the accrediting board of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The lengthy report details the structure, history and programs of the Canyon chamber and appends a blueprint of recommended steps aimed at turning it into a vigorous engine for civic and economic development.

Highlights of the proposed program, which covers nine categories of chamber organization or activity, are as follows.

In the field of organization, the report recommends that election procedure for board members be amended so that the nominating committee will nominate only one person for each vacancy. Forms will then be mailed to the membership for additional nominations, and the election ballot will list all nominees.

The report also urges that a formal program for the development of chamber officer material be established. The program would include recruiting of apt prospects and a graded progression of assignments to acquaint the prospective officer with all phases of chamber work.

Turning to staff work, the report recommends that duties of the secretary-manager be expanded to include consultative and promotional functions, including publicity, attendance at trade association meetings and visits to neighboring chambers of commerce. Suitable clerical help for the secretary-manager is requested so that he may be enabled to devote his time to functions other than routine office procedure.

In the field of chamber objectives, the report urges that all members join forces in attracting industry to Canyon by making it a forward-looking, attractive community.

The report notes that giveaway programs to attract industry limit benefits to the industry alone, while a determined community effort at improvement is "the only feasible, profitable means."

The report urges close community cooperation with West Texas State University "with an eye toward expanding present departments, initiating new departments...We should promote

BOY HOWDY--JUST BARELY MADE IT! Thirteen-month-old Sandra Gayle Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Thomas of Canyon, seems to be saying just that as she prepares for the New Year. Sandra brought in the New Year with her top hat in her hand and her official 1964 banner.

Contractor Says Time Nibbles At Courthouse

Randall County courthouse could do with a facelifting and some exterior patching, according to representatives of the R. L. High Co. of Clinton, Ill., specialists in courthouse repair.

R. L. High, president of the firm, and Lamont Cook of Amarillo, manager of the area office, visited Randall County commissioners Monday and advised expenditure of "a few cents on the dollar" in the immediate future in order to avoid more costly repairs at a later date.

High said a preliminary inspection of the building--one of the oldest courthouses in the Panhandle--revealed loose bricks and some weakened mortar joints in the outside wall, as well as weather damage to the main chimney and shrinking joints in the fire walls.

He said a complete job of renovation, including sealing and sandblasting, would cost about $7,500. The job might also be done, he suggested, on a piecemeal basis, as funds allowed.

Commissioners referred High to Sheriff L. S. (Slim) Johnston, who doubles as custodian of the courthouse and grounds. Johnston suggested that High prepare an itemized list of structural weaknesses in the building and submit the list to commissioners at the regular meeting next Monday.

In other business, Commissioner Bill Butler moved for authorization to sell at auction a small parcel of county land but withdrew the motion when it met with opposition.

The tract is a wedge-shaped section of approximately .165 of an acre at the northeast corner of Tract No. 4, Eberstadt & Brock Subdivision of the west one-half of Section No. 185, Block No. 2, A B&M Survey of Randall County.

Butler said the tract is not adapted to county use because of its shape. His motion for authorization to sell was seconded by Commissioner Glenn Dowlen.

Commissioners Clarence Beckman and B. R. Jones objected to sale of the tract and suggested that Butler explore the possibility of swapping it for a comparable area that might be more useful.

Butler agreed, withdrawing his motion.

Big Holiday For Schools Ends Monday

The two-week holiday will officially end Monday, Jan. 6, when students of Canyon Public Schools and West Texas State University return for regular classes.

Students returning to their lessons will be facing a bout of mid-term tests in late January. The public school will conclude the fall semester on January 16 after mid-term tests have been given.

Students of Canyon Public Schools will be dismissed Jan. 17 for a scholastic accounting day when teachers will conclude their semester reports and complete final grades on report cards. The spring semester will begin on Monday, Jan. 20, as students return to their classrooms.

College students will have a few extra days to prepare for their final exams that will be held Jan 20-23. They will be dismissed for a long week end after completing their tests.

Stock Show Scheduled Jan. 10-11

It's that time again when the youngsters of Randall County gather for the 17th annual Junior Livestock Show which will be held Jan. 10-11.

Committee members will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the livestock building to discuss final plans for the show.

The building will be prepared to receive the animals during the early days of next week. The job of weighing, classing, sifting and entering will start early Friday morning, Jan. 10.

Actual judging will begin at 1:30 p.m. Friday with the judging of the dairy heifers. The beef heifer judging and horse judging will follow that afternoon.

The fat animal classes will be judged Saturday morning, Jan. 11. The hogs will be shown at 9 a.m.; lambs at 1 p.m.; and the steers at 2:30 p.m.

Sale will start at 6:30 p.m. in the show building. Fat lambs, steers and hogs will be sold. Horses, beef heifers and dairy heifers will not be sold.

Only 4-H Club and FFA members will show. These boys and girls from Randall County will be competing for ribbons, banners, showmanship trophies and cash prizes.

Hilltop Views

The fact that within two hours after the President of the U. S. was assassinated the nation, through an orderly and legal process, had a new chief executive seemed to give assurance to most people that ours is a stable government. It is said that no tolalitarian government in all history has undergone such a crisis without bloodshed and more or less prolonged instability.

While President Johnson is making a commendable beginning in the President's chair there is a feeling of anxiety about the presidential succession in case something should happen to our new chief executive. We like to think that such a catastrophe is a very remote possibility, but it seems to me we should not shut our eyes to the chances we are taking.

In the first place, President Johnson has had a serious heart attack, and while his physician says he is in sound health a recurrence is entirely possible if, indeed, not probable. The responsibility he carries for the peace, prosperity, and happiness of his own countrymen and, in some measure, for all the people of the world, is enough to break the back and ruin the health of the strongest and soundest man alive.

Then there remains the assassination hazard. Already, it is reported, a threat has been made. While extraordinary precaution is being taken the alarming fact is that the criminal and anarchical element in our population is rapidly increasing. Meanwhile, some of our news media, motion pictures, yellow publications that flood our news stands, and evil agencies in general are making heroes out of murderers.

In addition to the above hazards it should be remembered that we have lost six presidents by death, four of whom have been assassinated in the last 100 years; the other two having natural deaths. It is noticeable that all six of these deaths have occurred in the last 120 years for an average of one every twenty years.

But, it may be argued, in each of these presidential deaths the law governing succession has taken care of the situation promptly and satisfactorily. Granted. However, we face a different situation today. By law, if the office of President should become vacant the Speaker of the House would automatically become Chief Executive. That officer is now 72 years old and in poor health. Next in line is the president pro tem of the Senate who is now past 90 years of age and obviously would not be able to serve acceptably either to himself or to the country. Following the president pro tem of the Senate are members of the Cabinet, beginning with the Secretary of State.

In view of the risks involved in the safety and health of President Johnson and the apparent incapacity of the Speaker of the House and the president pro tem of the Senate it seems to me that Congress (which has the power) should promptly make a revision of the law of succession to the presidency.

P. S. You will notice that no mention is here made of the possibility that a bomb might some day wipe Washington off the map. God forbid!

Doctors learn early in their long training the knack of charging for their services. Our older sister, presently serving as an intern in Cincinnati, was home for the Christmas holidays and cleverly cured the entire family of any possible illnesses with her spontaneous wit.

We learned early in her visit not to ask for free advice from the up and coming doctor.

One of the first mornings at home we mentioned we had a headache and thought of taking an aspirin for speedy relief. The physician of the family was asked for advice and she retorted, "Well, I'd see a doctor."

"Okay Doctor, what would you recommend?" we asked again.

"I'd take aspirin. That will be $3 please."

Can't win these days.

A sign posted on a ranch near the Canadian River is reported as reading, "No Trespassing. Trespassers will be shot. If missed, will be prosecuted."

We noticed in the news this week that General Joseph Stilwell, was injured in Viet Nam. Stilwell is the son of General Joseph (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell, U.S. Army General in charge of building the Burma Road in China.

Vinegar Joe died in 1945 but his widow still lives in Carmel, (By the Sea) California, between travels visiting her children.

We attended school with one of Mrs. Stilwell's granddaughters, Nan Easterbrook, one year and spent much time on the Army post where the girl lived. Nan's father, Major General Ernest Easterbrook was commander of Fort Rucker Army Post in Alabama the year we were in school in Mississippi.

We spent one Christmas with the Easterbrook family, consisting of a son, John, attending West Point at that time, Nan, Jim, a student in the local grade school, and Mrs. Easterbrook, daughter of Vinegar Joe and Winn Stilwell.

Mrs. Stilwell was also visiting in the Easterbrook home and what tales she had to tell of her life in China with her husband.

The entire Stilwell family had lived in China for many years before the war broke out and were well-versed in Chinese customs. One custom was the eating ritual which was quite a celebration for the Easterbrooks. The ritual consisted of cooking one's own food in the common cooking vat which was placed in the center of the table. Everyone put chicken, celery, shrimp, and many other meats and vegetables which cooked rapidly in the boiling water.

With chopsticks we dipped the food from the large vat and served ourselves. The main rule was that chop sticks must be used. No chop sticks, no eat.

Along with the meal went hot tea (of course no sugar) and good conversation concerning the age-old country. Winn Stilwell could recall many customs and traditions which the Chinese held sacred. Somehow the descendents of the Stilwells seemed to be well-educated in not only China, but most countries of the world. They had been to most of the countries or if they hadn't someone in the family had been.

We learned a great deal from Mrs. Stilwell and the Easterbrook family. General and Mrs. Easterbrook are presently living in Thailand, and we are looking forward to their return for detailed chats about life in that country.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

This is a year of politics. On this issue the day after New Year we're going to go out on the limb and make a few political predictions.

Check us at year end and see how good was our batting average.

Of course Lyndon Johnson will be the standard bearer for the Democrats. Don't be surprised if someone very close to the Kennedy clan is his running mate. It may even be Sargent Shriver, JFK's brother-in-law and head of the Peace Corps.

Johnson needs the vote getting machinery which the Kennedy family has kept well oiled since 1956. The clan is strong in the very sections in which Johnson is weak.

Look for one of the Kennedy family or someone the clan chooses to be in the number two spot on the Democratic ticket. It is not what Johnson might ordinarily like, it is something we feel he must do.

Johnson will get a civil rights bill. It will not retain the public accomodations provision. Texas Governor John Connally will help the President sell the South on the idea that Johnson protected Southern interests in scrapping this provision which is so unpalatable to the South.

He will be successful. Johnson will sweep the South.

Lyndon Johnson will bury the hatchet with his arch foe, Ralph Yarborough. Yarborough will win again. Remember, this is not what we particularly would like to see. It is what we believe will happen.

Richard Nixon will run for President again on the Republican ticket. It doesn't make much difference who his running mate happens to be. Dick Nixon will be defeated again and this will eclipse a brilliant political career which rose to zenith in the kitchen debate with Krushchev in 1959 and began its plunge toward oblivion with the Kennedy-Nixon television debates of 1960.

***

Walter Rogers, with the backing of Amarillo's Main Street, will run for re-election without serious opposition.

Federal spending in this congressional district constitutes a major source of income. Congressman Rogers can and will claim credit.

***

These predictions could be changed radically by events in the next few months. Check our batting average this time next year.

In the meantime: Happy New Year!

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cranmer were Mrs. Cranmer's sister and family from Amarillo, Mrs. Mark Taylor and children, Debbie, Tim, and Kyle.

Vera A. Crawford Treasures Her Furniture From Indiana

BY GLENNA WILSON

Inside the neat stucco house at 2617 2nd Ave., freshly painted walls compliment the interesting furniture, much of which came from the state of Indiana.

The lady of the house, Miss Vera A. Crawford, treasures especially a chest of drawers which adorns her living room. The chest is made of birdseye maple, red cherry, crouch maple, and crouch cherry.

Inside the front bedroom of her home stands a lovely walnut bed which she explains was made from a cup-board built from trees too hard to be split by rails.

"The lumber was milled in my grandfather Huidi's saw mill in Stateline, Indiana, continued Miss Crawford, who for 25 years, planned, prepared and served meals to some 150 girls in West Texas State's Cousins Hall. In addition to the girls, she often cooked for banquets and various club dinners such as Rotary, Lions, and the Chamber of Commerce. During the war years, she also fed athletes and soldiers.

"During these war years, I worked 18 hours out of 24," she stated.

"I spent many happy days in Cousins" relates Miss Crawford, "But it was different in the early twenties----canned products were not plentiful then, and we hadn't even heard of frozen foods."

"I remember snapping 45 lbs. of green beans for one meal----Did I have any help? Oh! Yes, Miss Rambo, the home economics teacher came by and helped me."

When Miss Crawford came to Canyon in 1910, she stayed for awhile in the Block House, the Jenkin's Home and Huntley Hall. Cousins was built in the summer of 1920, and she began her work there in the fall.

It was an unexpected occasion during that first fall that she was priviledged to serve dinner to Mr. Marshall, vice-president to Woodrow Wilson. She had planned to serve swiss steak that particular day, and the regular 150 girls ate the steak without knowing that a special turkey dinner was being served to the honored guest along with members of the faculty.

"Where did I get the turkey? Well, it wasn't easy, but a farmer, Ernest Brown was in the turkey business then, and came to my rescue. I still had to dress it though."

Vera A. Crawford is a descendent of the Crawfords who lived in Iuce, Norway in 802. Of Scotch descent, dating back to 1100 when Sir William de Lindissee was the first known Crawford in Scotland, she was born in Lebanon, Indiana, Nov. 6, 1881. Her ancestors who desired to move west from Scotland settled first in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia. In 1829 her grandfather moved with his family in a covered wagon drawn by oxen to Indiana. It was after him that Crawfordville, Indiana was named.

Before moving to Canyon, Vera was a teacher in Central Normal College in Danville, Indiana. She has been a member of the First Christian Church since 1903 and a member of the Eastern Star for 61 years. She was a member of the Lou Lester Club which was named after the wife of one of Canyon's early bank presidents. Mr. Lester built the house owned by Mrs. John Davis at 310 8th Street.

Miss Crawford, who for so long supervised the dining room, kitchen and store room of Cousins Hall wishes to share one of her favorite cake recipes.

FOUR LAYER FRUIT CAKE
1 cup butter
2 cups brown sugar
1 cup strong coffee
1 cup sorghum syrup
4 eggs
4 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons soda
2 teaspoons cloves
2 teaspoons mace
1 lb. raisins
1 lb. currants

Bake in 8 inch layer pans (Miss Crawford uses square pans)

FILLING
1 lb. each, i
1 lb. each, figs, dates
1 cup water,
1 cup water
1 cup sugar (white)
1 cup nuts

Cook to a jelly. If too thick to spread, add more water.

Miss Crawford baked one of these cakes recently and declared, "I believe it's the best I've ever baked."

VERA A. CRAWFORD recalls how much of her furniture was made in Indiana from lumber in her grandfather's mill. Miss Crawford supervised the dining room, kitchen and store room of Cousins Hall at West Texas State University for 25 years, and helped prepare food for many of the civic organizations in town.

Dewey Hicks Tragedy --

On the crime front, the year's biggest story in Randall County was the Dewey Hicks case.

Hicks was charged on two counts of murder in connection with the early morning shooting of a father and son in South Amarillo. Slain were Joseph Richard Damron, 73 years old, and Joseph William Damron, 44.

The shooting took place at the Damron home in the early morning hours of New Year Day.

Hicks was found sane in a sanity hearing held in 47th District Court here. District Attorney Truett Hull made an eloquent plea to the jury to wind up the hearing.

Hicks was released from jail on bond and a short time later the expert marksman, gun collector, hunter and builder was dead by his own hand.

Great Cage Tourney --

Canyon's Eagles basketball team coached by Allen Simpson had one of its greatest basketball seasons in history.

The courageous Eagles came within six points of the mighty Buna Cougars on the maplewood of Gregory Gym in Austin and were just that far short of the state AA crown.

The team was paced by towering Bob Begert and little Harry Lisle.

Lisle played one of his greatest games in that grand finale of his high school career. Harry hit the hoop for 12 points but it was his dribbling that almost did the Cougars in.

Buna won 47-41.

Begert led Canyon scoring with 17 points and had he not suffered an injury late in the ball game the contest might have ended differently.

Sportswriters picked Boh and Harry to the all-tournament team. Begert was honored by Amarillo newspapers as captain of the all-Plains team for 1963.

Both Begert and Lisle are carving out collegiate basketball careers.

Theater Dedicated --

On April 21, ceremonies dedicating the Texas Panhandle Heritage Amphitheater in Palo Duro State Park were held against the majestic backdrop of Palo Duro Canyon.

The Heritage Foundation, established as an area project to preserve history and tradition in a music drama that would be a permanent attraction at the state park, is headed by Mrs. Ples Harper of Canyon, president.

Funds for the outdoor theater at the foot of a sheer cliff were raised by popular subscription and playwright Paul Green of Chapel Hill, S. C., was commissioned to write the music drama.

The theater is expected to become a going concern this year.

Population Increase--

Early in January, Canyon residents learned that building in their town had neared the $5 million mark at the end of 1962. As of Jan. 1, the city could count 90 new residences, plus commercial construction totaling $282,000. A total of 77 new residences was listed in the Canyon area, outside city limits.

This gave a clue to what turned out to be one of the bigger news stories of October, when the Canyon Chamber of Commerce announced the city's population was touching the 7,000 mark, not including WTSU students residing on campus. The increase in population was nearly 3,000 over the 1960 census figure.

New Year's Party Can Be Happy Time

Planning a New Year's party? Be sure that it is in keeping with the happy spirit of the holiday.

Make a list of things "to do." Don't try to make up a "schedule," just have a list of games and activities and be ready to suggest something when and if the party begins to appear dull.

Remembering that the New Year celebration in old China was both lengthy and happy, you might inject a Chinese theme into your celebration. You can begin with New Year resolutions.

In writing the resolutions, try to pick out humorous weaknesses. These might read: "I most profoundly resolve to do setting up exercises each morning, thereby stretching my weak frame"; "No more despicable smoking for this insignificant creature"; or "This No. 1 boy resolves to study his mathematics one hour every evening."

Men and boys will like "Chinese Get-up." Two persons sit on the floor back to back and lock arms. The first to get to his feet without unlinking arms is the winner.

For Children

If the children are restless, have them go to a rather large room to play "Catching the Dragon's Tail." This game is like "Crack the Whip" and requires space. The children place their hands on each other's shoulders, forming a line. The first person is the dragon's head; the last one, its tail. With the line intact, the dragon's head attempts to catch its tail. When the first person succeeds, he goes to the end of the line as the tail, and so on.

Since all parties need refreshments, humble nourishment for your superior guests should be in keeping with the Chinese theme. You might serve Chinese tea and Chinese almond cakes or nut cookies. Candied fruits and nuts are also Chinese delicacies.

To greet the illustrious New Year, you will want to have ready plenty of noisemakers, confetti and streamers. According to an old Chinese superstition, the noise will frighten away evil spirits.

Miss Richardson, but for many years she varied classroom chores by attending college until she had earned two degrees at the University of Texas. Joining the faculty of West Texas State represented the achievement of a goal, for she had long dreamed of teaching in a college. Six years after she came to Canyon she moved into her own home, Rest Cottage, which she shared with many students during her years of teaching. During the depression, some 50 girls lived at the cottage at various times as Miss Richardson operated a "cooperative dormitory" with bonus benefits for the residents who profited by the example and counsel of an unusual house mother.

She called the low stone fence in front of the cottage a "courting fence" and designated it for freshmen. In 1953, she deeded the cottage to the Methodist Church. She planned for it to be a home for a retired minister.

Like normal designs for living, ordinary teaching methods were simply patterns subject to change in Miss Richardson's classes. If the elements of English grammar or the message of the romantic poets sometimes met with the phenomena of mass mental block, Mary Moss called for a moment of silent prayer by teacher and class. The method was unorthodox, but the result often was greater understanding.

Many active years remained for Miss Richardson after her retirement from the West Texas State faculty in 1945. She continued to teach her Sunday School class, and she donated her services as teacher of English to displaced persons who came to this country after the war. It is certain that the association not only taught these wanderers English but added a warm welcome to their new country.

Such gifts were characteristic of a generous life. To Miss Richardson, tithing meant giving of money and of herself and her talents to persons, institutions and causes near at hand and far away. The missionary spirit thrived in Rest Cottage.

And in Miss Richardson all who would look could see the fruits of the spirit as set forth by the first missionary, St. Paul. They were, as described by Mrs. T. V. Reeves in a newspaper article some years ago:

"Love and kindness, energy and faith, forebearance and forgiveness, seasoned with laughter and joy and daily happiness."

Memorials to Miss Richardson may be given to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, the Methodist Home at Waco, the Leonard Wood Leper Memorial Home in Washington, D. C., and to Mrs. Reifsnyder, a missionary in Peru. Donations to Mrs. Reifsnyder may be sent care of Dr. Ruth Lowes of Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Webb spent the Christmas holidays visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Webb, at Lamesa and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Owens, at Olton.

During the holidays, they also visited with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Helms, at Knox City.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Castleman and children, Marsha and Gary, spent the holidays at Eldorado as houseguests of her sister, Mrs. B. F. Harkey, and family.

They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Porter in Eldorado during the holidays. Mrs. Castleman and Mrs. Porter are sisters.

the establishment of a research center at the university and work in conjunction with area industries..."

The chamber and community also should join forces to publicize Canyon as a center of education, sports and cultural activities by emphasizing the contributions of WT, Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, Palo Duro State Park and the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation.

The report also presses for a program for the beautification and improvement of Buffalo Lake "for the time when the opening of the Canadian River Dam" area relieves present heavy use of lake facilities.

Scanning the chamber work program, the report suggests it might be enhanced by bringing "government in action" to the attention of the public through meetings with elected and appointed officials. Students should also be encouraged to interpret government in a democracy on occasions to be arranged by the chamber, and voting on all issues in all elections should be encouraged.

The report also urges stepped-up chamber participation in county and area activities, including farm, dairy and ranch industries.

Promotion of the work program should be assisted by wider publicity, the report declares. In this connection, the chamber is urged to cooperate fully with local news media, reporting committee activities as quickly as possible, and extending news reports to big-city daily newspapers in the area.

In the area of finance, the report recommends that an ad solicitation program be undertaken at once in connection with the monthly chamber newsletter in an effort to obtain additional revenues "over and above the cost of publishing the bulletin."

The report recommends that membership be reviewed by a committee for the purpose of upgrading dues assessments. "There are many firms and individuals who, in the opinion of the committee, are not paying their proportionate dues," the report notes.

The fiscal survey includes a suggestion that annual banquet tickets be sold at a price high enough to make up for complimentary tickets and "provide a profit over and above that..."

The report suggests that an auditing committee be set up each year and charged with the responsibility of checking accounts. It specifically withholds recommendation of an annual audit by an accounting firm.

The report concludes by requesting that "serious consideration" be given to obtaining more suitable quarters for chamber offices, and to purchasing office furniture and an addressograph.

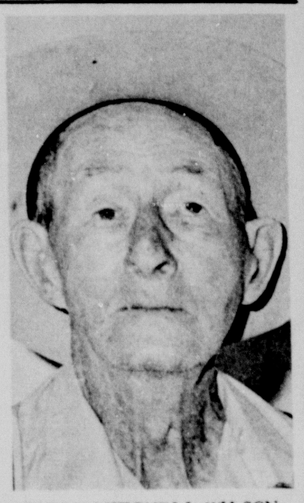
Perry Mitchell Wilson

Death Claims Range Veteran



PERRY MITCHELL WILSON

Last week, at the end of a sunny, peaceful day, one more rider of the Old West closed his eyes and quietly slipped away from a range grown too cluttered for a cowboy's comfort.

He was Perry Mitchell Wilson, of 1708 2nd Avenue, who liked to remember that he'd been a cowpuncher "from the time I was old enough to ride until I retired about 15 years ago," at the age of 70.

Mr. Wilson died Dec. 23 in Neblett Hospital at the age of 85. Funeral services were conducted Dec. 26 in LaGrone Funeral Chapel. The Rev. Newton Starnes, pastor of First Methodist Church of Canyon, officiated, assisted by Bob Wear, minister of Central Church of Christ, and burial was in Dreamland Cemetery.

Surviving are the wife Mrs. Alice May Wilson; three sons, Perry of Canyon, John W. of Amarillo and Hamill W. Wilson of Pampa; four daughters, Mrs. Bert Kennison, Long Beach, Calif., Mrs. C. E. Clark, Canyon, Mrs. Olie Ford, Dallas, Mrs. Tige Groves, Stinnett; seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

For the cowboy from Spartanburg, N. C., the long ride west had taken him to the trackless acres of the XIT in its heyday, as well as to other ranches whose names are the very breath of a spacious past. But he had enjoyed every mile and every minute of it, and only a couple of months ago he had pronounced a nostalgic valedictory to that vanished way of life.

In the great old days of the XIT, the Spade, the Cross J, the other cattle spreads, "people were honest," Mr. Wilson has told a Canyon News reporter. "They respected what was yours."

And those were the best days, he said, "because people were free. Everyone did as he pleased and there was plenty of room for everyone to do as he wanted to."

Warming to his subject, the old cowboy's eyes had lighted with vivid memories:

"No cowboy went without a nickname. I've been called Jack for nearly 52 years. Before that, cowhands called me Mitch. But it didn't make any difference what they called me, so long as I knew who they were talking to..."

And the snapshots of camp life:

"A man rode into our camp one day and asked for a place to sleep. He was told to unsaddle and make himself at home in the bunkhouse. Later that evening we were all singing and dancing and this man just watched us and smiled. When we were ready for bed, he asked us to stay around five minutes and listen to him as he talked of the Bible. That man was going on to Colorado to preach to the men in that section of the country. I guess I'll never forget the way he asked us for just five minutes of our time to listen to him."

And the ranch dances that lasted for three days:

"Everyone brought their bedrolls, and stayed and stayed, and we would have the biggest time ever."

Mr. Wilson in his time rode not only for the fabulous XIT but also the Cross J and the Long S at Edwards, Texas.

He and Mrs. Wilson were married in McDade, Mrs. Wilson's birth place, in 1900. They came to Canyon 51 years ago so that the children could attend West Texas Normal College. The town then, Mr. Wilson recalled, was a speckle of houses with wide spaces between and from the Wilson home in the 1700 block of 2nd Ave. nothing blocked the view towards "the old hotel on the square."

During this time, Mr. Wilson worked the Cross J herds at Black Camp, Timbercreek Camp and Stamp Camp. Mrs. Wilson and the children stayed in Canyon, alone sometimes for a couple of months at a spell before Wilson could get time off and ride back to town.

But it was a good life, Mr. Wilson said.

"The work wasn't hard, and I guess I liked it better than anything else."

And the secret of the happy life? Said Mrs. Wilson:

"Love, and being carefree--they're the two things that would sum up how we managed to get through the years."

Love, and being carefree...
Free people...
Space and the big sky...
Cowboys can be poets, too.

Mrs. H.C. Adcock Gives Hereford Cake Recipe

BY LORENA MILLER

Mrs. H. C. Adcock is sharing her recipe for Hereford Cake with our readers this week. The novel cake when decorated appears to be a steer resting on a bed of green grass and has been used for birthday celebrations in the Adcock family for quite some time.

Mrs. Adcock, the former Bertha Sykes, moved to Canyon from Breckenridge with her parents when she was a teenager. She became the bride of H. C. Adcock in 1937 and the couple has one daughter, Mrs. Camal Dakil, who lives in Dumas.

A graduate of West Texas State University, Mrs. Dakil is the mother of two children, David Charles and Susan Lee. She is a third grade teacher in the Dumas School system.

An original Japanese doll was presented to Mrs. Adcock by her grandchildren's baby sitter, Mrs. Bob Hembry of Dumas. Mrs Hembry bought the doll for Mrs. Adcock's collection while she was on a visit to her homeland last summer.

Mrs. Adcock's doll collection includes a china doll that she had during her youth. The cloth body of the doll was replaced in recent years but the china head, arms and legs are unscarred through many years of use.

An active homemaker, Mrs. Adcock fills her freezer with fresh produce from the garden each summer. She formerly raised a family garden when they lived on a farm southeast of Canyon. However, since moving to Canyon, about three years ago, Mrs. Adcock freezes vegetables raised by her husband on the farm truck patch.

The Adcocks lived on the farm five miles southeast of Canyon for about 17 years before buying their present residence at 3102 4th Avenue. The two bedroom brick home was a show home for the Taylor-Foster builders when it was bought by the Adcocks.

"It has a lot of features that I have always wanted in a home," commented Mrs. Adcock as she noted the wide window shelf that extends from the kitchen sink to the dining area. The window shelf, decorated with candles, figurines, and miniature Santa Claus mugs, is built below a long row of double windows.

The spacious cabinets are outlined with an old-fashioned wood border and complemented with unusual antique styled drawer and door handles. An electric oven and built in stove in bronze tone add to the kitchen that is located with an outlook on the front entry and an exit to the garage.

"At last I have a place to display my collection of milk glass," said Mrs. Adcock. The 15-year-old collection of footed goblets had been stored in boxes until the Adcocks moved to town. They now are displayed on a shelf that is built above the cabinet section.

The living room and den combination are graced with sliding glass doors that open into the back yard. The large family room was decorated for the holidays with an original creation of Mrs. Adcock's. The holiday decoration included a large candle arranged on a base made of a plow disc and an iron combine part that had been sprayed gold and accented with miniature pine cones, Santa candles, greenery, and bells.

She is a member of the Canyon Home Demonstration Club and has served as vice president and secretary for the club in recent years. The Adcocks are members of the First Methodist Church of Canyon.

Mrs. Adcock, an adept cook, made an unusual Christmas treat from cookies for the holidays. The spicy cookies, baked in varying star shapes, were arranged on a spindle to form a Christmas tree.

"Baking is a favorite pastime of mine," says Mrs. Adcock who spent the pre-holiday season baking party cookies, fruit cakes and other pastries for her friends and neighbors. She bakes a variety of desserts to sell during the holiday season each year.

"While my daughter was home I was always baking for bazaars, bake sales, and church and school socials," said Mrs. Adcock, "and now with time on my hands I have begun baking for the public as a hobby and find it very rewarding."

One of the first Hereford Cakes that Mrs. Adcock baked was sold at an auction during the Lions Club carnival in Canyon. Decorated with a blue show ribbon and neck chain, the cake is a special novelty and can be baked ahead of time and frozen until you plan to use it. It is best when baked ahead of time and decorated the day of the party.

"The cake is baked in a lamb mold that can be bought for two dollars in light weight aluminum or about four dollars in a heavy cast aluminum," Mrs. Adcock commented.

The recipe follows:

HEREFORD CAKE

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1 cup milk
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/4 tsp. lemon extract
4 egg whites, beaten stiff

Cream butter. Add sugar gradually and beat until fluffy. Sift dry ingredients and add to creamed mixture alternately with milk. Beat in flavorings.

Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Fold egg whites lightly into batter.

Grease both sides of the lamb mold well and dust lightly with flour. Pour batter into the half of the mold with the face. (Use the extra batter to bake a dozen cupcakes.)

Insert toothpick down in batter in nose area for reinforcement. Place other half of mold on top and make sure it locks in place. Place mold on baking sheet and bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. The cupcakes should be baked at 350 degrees for about 25 minutes.

As the cake batter rises in baking it will fill the upper half of the mold to form the cake. When baked, stand cake up on edge with a prop until thoroughly cool. Remove from pan, wrap and freeze or cover and let stand overnight before frosting.

CHOCOLATE FROSTING

Blend: 3 cups confectioner's sugar
1/3 cup soft butter or margarine

Stir in: 3 (3 oz.) squares of unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 1/2 tsp. vanilla
3 or 4 Tbsp. light cream or milk, just enough to make good spreading consistency.
Add 1 cup of shredded coconut and blend.

WHITE FROSTING

Follow directions for chocolate frosting, listed above, but omit the chocolate. Set aside about two tablespoons of white frosting to use for nose of steer before adding the coconut.

TO DECORATE

Partially thaw cake. Use small spatula to spread white frosting and make nose a rounded square with extra frosting. (The lamb mold is a sharp pointed face and the extra frosting will give it the appearance of a calves head.)

With white frosting cover the neck, front of ears, the front feet, and tail switch and an area from the top of the head down the back of the neck to the shoulder area.

Apply chocolate frosting to the body. Make the ears a little larger and rounded and the body a little fatter with extra frosting.

Add a touch of red and yellow food coloring with a toothpick to the 2 Tbsp. of white frosting that was saved. When tinted to a pale pink apply to the nose in a casual square. Make the eyes with raisins.

To complete decorations for the cake take a blue ribbon to make a stock show award. The button area should be made of white paper and decorated with initials of the birthday child printed in the center with a crayon or pen. The show medal is attached to the rump of the steer after it is frosted.

The age of the child is displayed on a pendant that is hung from the neck by a chain.

For a quick variation in baking the cake use a package of pound cake mix (1 lb. 1 oz. size) mixed as directed on the package and baked in the lamb mold. Frost with a package of creamy chocolate frosting and creamy white frosting to which have been added coconut as directed. Follow same decorating directions.

MRS. H. C. ADCOCK is pictured after completing decorations on a Hereford Cake that she selected to share with our readers this week. Also on the table is a baked cake that has been frozen for later use at a birthday celebration or other special occasion.. Mrs. Adcock contributed the cake recipe, frosting recipes and described proper decorations for the cake that appears this week.

Church Camp Prepares For Record Season

BY FRED TRIPP

North and west of Canyon, nine miles by road, one of the busiest summer communities in this part of the country is getting ready for a record-breaking year.

In 1963, some 7,000 persons participated in programs of fellowship and recreation at the Amarillo Baptist Association assembly grounds. In 1963, about 8,000 persons, by actual count, visited the camp.

And this year, says Argus A. Burnett, camp business manager, "We're certain to have more--a lot more."

Burnett, who also is superintendent of missions for the Amarillo Baptist Association, last week reviewed the development of the 319-acre tract on Palo Duro Creek and outlined some immediate and long-term plans for making the camp a $1 million, area center for church-related outdoor activities.

Site of the assembly grounds--a half-section of rolling plain and terraces that rise in scenic steps on both sides of the tree-bordered creek--was acquired for $40,000 in February, 1959. Purchase of the site and cost of an immediate and continuing program of improvement were financed by a $250,000 issue of association bonds. Of the total authorized issue, $110,000 was sold in 1959, $50,000 in 1961 and $50,000 in 1963. The remainder will be sold, Burnett said, as the need for additional improvements arises.

Original improvements included gas and power transmission lines, a water well, wellhouse and pumping equipment, telephone service, a primary road network and a central administration building. Later, a sewage disposal plant, bath house, dormitory, five baseball diamonds and a football field were financed by association funds.

Meanwhile, several member churches built cottages for use by their congregations. Participating in the cottage program so far are First Baptist Church of Friona, Palo Duro Baptist Church, Wildorado, First Baptist Church of Hereford, Hillcrest Baptist Church, Amarillo, Summerfield Baptist Church, Dawn Baptist Church, and First Baptist Church of Canyon.

"Altogether, these churches have invested something like a total of $115,000," Burnett said, "and several other churches are now in process of building cottages."

Scheduled for early completion are cottages constructed by Paramount Baptist Church of Amarillo and Avenue Baptist Church of Hereford. Other cottages are being built by Trinity Baptist Church of Amarillo and Temple Baptist Church of Amarillo.

The individual church buildings are erected on one-third acre tracts which the churches hold on long-term lease. Two cottage areas provide about 125 building sites.

Biggest addition to the building program so far has been the handsome Assembly Activities Building constructed by First Baptist Church of Canyon at a cost of approximately $47,000. The building features two large dormitories, a kitchen, and a fellowship and activities room.

To meet increasing use of the assembly grounds by member churches, as well as others participating in the project, the association last year marketed $50,000 worth of bonds to pay for a swimming pool, grading of roads, and lighting a baseball diamond for night games.

"The pool is the first of two included in our over-all plans," Burnett said. "It will measure 42 feet by 100 feet and cost about $35,000. We expect to have it ready for use by May 15. The other improvements are scheduled for completion in time for the summer schedule of activities."

Burnett said it is also hoped to complete the first unit of a tabernacle which will be the center of religious activities now conducted in the administration building.

The assembly grounds are available for use by Baptist organizations the year round, but planned activities on a large scale will begin this year as early as April 4 when the Little Olympics, a competition for youngsters aged 9-11, will be held on the NCAA tract that circles the football field. Second edition of the Olympics designed for youngsters of 12-17, will be staged April 11.

During the summer months the grounds are expected to take on the appearance of a populous town as scheduled camps attract thousands of young people and grownups.

Referring to a bulky log of events, Burnett gave a sampling.

The annual retreat program for young women is scheduled June 5-6, and the WMU Jubilee Prayer Retreat, for women only, will be held June 26-27.

From June 22 to June 25, the annual music camp will be in full swing, to be followed June 29 - July 1 by the annual Youth Camp. On July 4 the grounds are booked for the annual one-day Family Camp. The Intermediate Girls' Camp, for ages 13-16, will be held July 6-9; the Junior Girls' Camp, ages 9-12, from July 13 to July 16.

The annual Boys' Camp for the 9-11 group will be held July 20-23, and the 12-17 group will meet July 27-30.

Aug. 1 is the date for the area Youth Rally, a get-together that annually attracts thousands, and on Aug. 11 adults will meet for the Brotherhood Fish Fry, another popular event.

The one-day Sunbeam Day Camp, for 8-year-olds only, is scheduled Aug. 14.

In addition to these events, a large number of individual church groups will also use camp facilities.

"Last year some 200 church organizations of the area used the assembly grounds," Burnett said, "and we expect an even larger number this year."

There is no charge for use of the grounds unless dining room service is required, he said.

Camp overhead is held to a minimum by using counselors recruited from member churches. During the season of scheduled activities, the camp dining room is served by four cooks. Grounds are maintained the year round by a part-time caretaker.

Looking to the future, Burnett sees a steady improvement of plant and facilities as the value of the assembly grounds is realized by member and affiliated churches.

"Several churches of the Amarillo Association have learned from experience that a church camp is a valuable activity," Burnett said. "Other churches, newer members of the association, are learning this. It is not too much to expect that our assembly grounds will be, at the end of a decade of operation, a center for church-related activities throughout this area, and the money investment will be close to a million dollars."

From Canyon, the camp grounds are reached by going west four miles on U. S. 60 to the intersection with FM 1062, continuing west two miles on FM 1062 to its intersection with a paved road, then turning right and going north three miles on this road to the camp entrance.

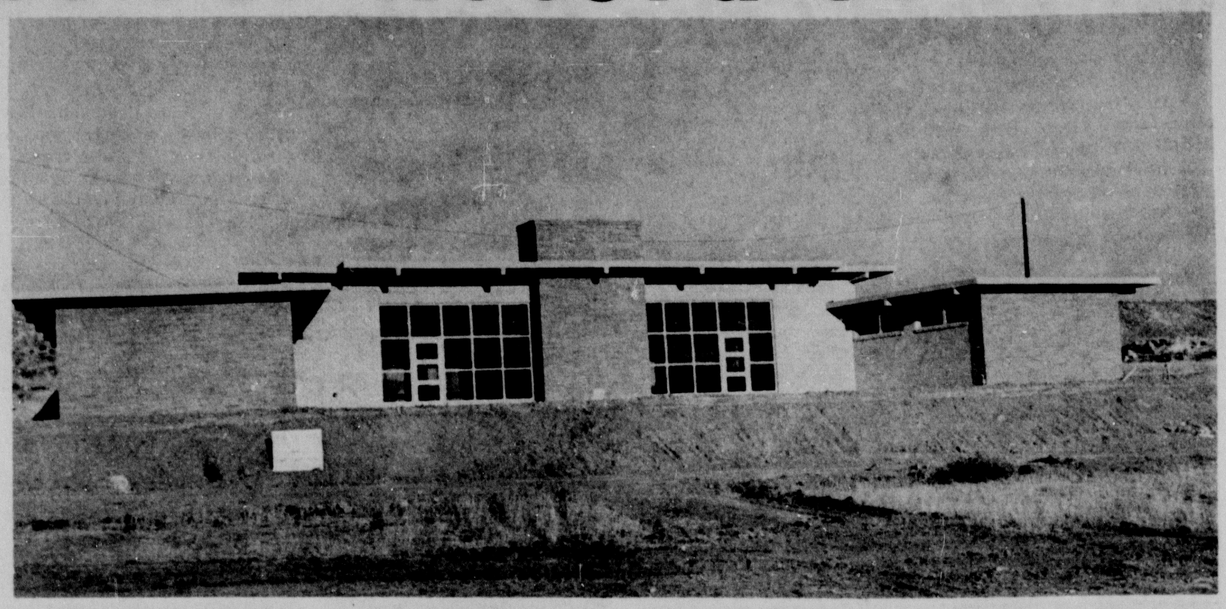
Details of the camp program may be obtained from Mrs. Jean Lowe, secretary-treasurer, 2122 Monroe, Amarillo.

Members of the assembly development committee are Moody Smith, business administrator for First Baptist Church, Amarillo, chairman; the Rev. Grayson Glass, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, Amarillo; the Rev. Dale Cain, pastor of Pantex Baptist Church, Amarillo; W. A. Mays, Amarillo; the Rev. McGray Ford, Jr., Amarillo; Dr. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of First Baptist Church, Canyon; Hugh Knox, Vega; and Jimmy Allred, Hereford.

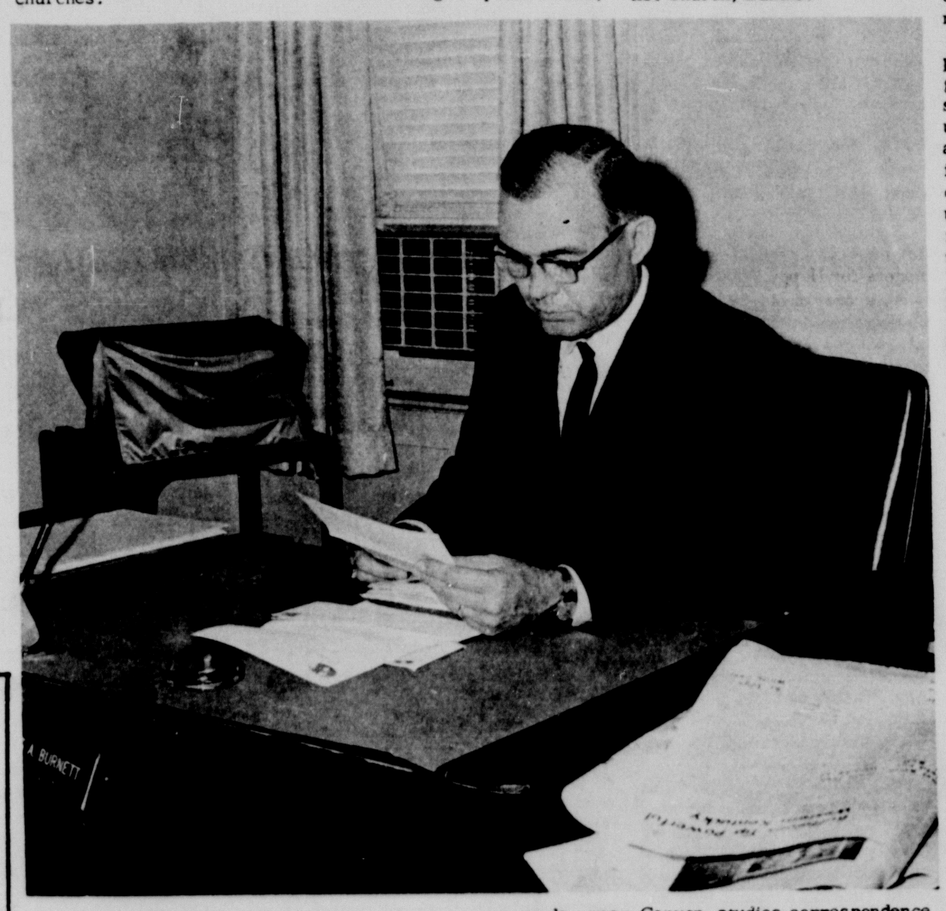
Members of the camp policies committee are Don Kimball, Wildorado; Mrs. Wheeler Davis, Claude; the Rev. Bill Burton, Friona; the Rev. M. E. Upchurch, Stratford; the Rev. Marvin Knox, Dalhart; Richard Fancher, Spearman; the Rev. M. H. Childers, pastor of Buchanan Street Baptist Church, Amarillo; the Rev. Davis Harrell, Eastridge Baptist Church, Amarillo; Mrs. W. A. McClure, Amarillo; the Rev. Jack Boyett, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, Canyon; and George Parker, Amarillo.

The camp project is supported through gifts and contributions from more than 40 churches and missions comprising the Amarillo Baptist Association, which includes Southern Baptist congregations in Claude, Canyon, Hereford, Dawn, Wildorado, Bushland, Vega, Adrian, Friona, Summerfield, Amarillo and Pantex.

Churches outside the association territory but participating in the project are those at Booker, Canadian, Gruver, Higgins, Spearman, Cactus, Hartley, Texline, Morse, Stratford, Sunray, Miami and Masterson, and the Lincoln Street Church, Dalhart, and the Calvary Baptist Church, Dumas.



LATEST ADDITION to the plant at the Amarillo Baptist Assembly grounds is this Assembly Activities Building constructed by First Baptist Church of Canyon and dedicated last month. Costing approximately $47,000, the brick, stone and tile building features two large dormitories, a kitchen and a fellowship and activities center.



ARGUS A. BURNETT, superintendent of missions for the Amarillo Baptist Association and business manager for the association assembly grounds near Canyon, studies correspondence and schedules in preparation for what he expects to be a record camp season.

Company Plans Big 1964 Year

Southwestern Public Service Company has investment plans for new equipment and construction totalling upward to $30,222,000 for 1964, according to a report issued by A. R. Watson, president and general manager of the electric light and power company.

This investment in new facilities is the largest one year amount spent in one year in the company's history.

"The 1964 improvement and construction budget is nearly 31 per cent higher than our record years for construction, which were 1953 and 1963, and is evidence of our continuing confidence in the growth of this region," Watson said.

The major item in the company's 1964 construction program will be an accelerated schedule of work on the second unit of Cunningham Station, located west of Hobbs, New Mexico. Originally scheduled for completion in 1966, the continued growth of the area has resulted in the time table on this 210,000 kilowatt unit being advanced a full year, and it is now scheduled to be in service in mid-1965.

Another major generating plant addition is the 4th turbo-generator at Plant X, in Lamb County, Texas. This 210,000 kilowatt unit, the largest single machine ever installed on Southwestern's system, will go into service in mid-1964.

Watson predicted the company's largest period of growth in the next few years. Southwestern has a present generating capability of more than one million kilowatts and additions which total 420,000 kilowatts are being planned for the next two years.

The company's ultimate goal is the operation of a 230,000 volt "backbone" transmission system extending from Borger to the Pecos Valley region of New Mexico. The result of doubling the transmission line voltage is that the line will then carry four times as much power.

In addition to the transmission grid, which ties together all of the company's plants, the generating facilities of the larger stations, Plant X, Cunningham and Nichols Station, near Amarillo, are directly controlled by an automatic dispatching system, which electronically determines the most efficient generating units to be operated. The dispatching system also computes the share of the load which other plants should be carrying on the basis of costs, and then these loads are assigned to the plants by direct communication from the load dispatching center in Amarillo.

Jess L. Dow Honoree At Dinner

A testimonial dinner honoring Jess L. Dow, son-in-law of Mrs. Novella Kirkpatrick of Canyon, was held in early December at Cheshire, Connecticut.

Born at Littlefield, Texas, Dow attended West Texas State University where he received his degree in 1938 and then played three years of professional ball with the Philadelphia Eagles. While at West Texas State University, he was a little All American. He was nicknamed "Lwwood" while at WT.

Named as Coach of the Year by Connecticut sportswriters twice, Dow was recently named to the NAIA Hall of Fame. Since 1948, when Southern Connecticut College fielded its first intercollegiate football team, Dow has molded small college material into big league records and has built the team into one of the top small college football powers of the East. His team record now stands at 99 wins, 31 losses, and 5 tied games.

Dow and his wife, the former Arnita Kirkpatrick of Canyon, have two children. Their son, Bob, is attending Duke University on a football scholarship and their daughter, Jane, is a student at Branford High School.

Buff Cagers Drop Game To WU Bears Here, 72-65

West Texas State saw its season's record for the Buff basketball team tumble back to the .500 mark Monday night as the visiting Bears from Washington University of S. Louis took a 72-65 decision from the Buffs at the Buffalo Field House.

West Texas led at halftime 39-37 but could not hold off the torrid shooting pace of the Bears and went down to its fourth defeat of the season. The Buffs will attempt to climb back over the .500 mark this Saturday as they journey to Albuquerque to meet the University of New Mexico.

The Buffs, sparked by the outcourt "picture" shots of Marv Mitchell, jumped out to an early lead in the first half. The Bears, never very far behind, came right back on the shooting of Ron Jackson and the rebounding of Wayne Williams and Ed Dancy and took over the lead with three minutes left in the half.

Trailing 35-33, the Buffs put its fast break machine in gear and scored three quick buckets before the Bears could put one more tally on the scoreboard before intermission.

Scottie Pierce made a three point play to give West Texas a brief 5 point lead early in the second half before the Bears began hitting everything they threw up at the basket. Washington whittled away at the Buffs lead and finally overtook the young West Texas squad 57-55 with less that 6 minutes remaining. The Buffs then went cold on their shots from the floor and Washington increased its lead to 65-57 with only three minutes left.

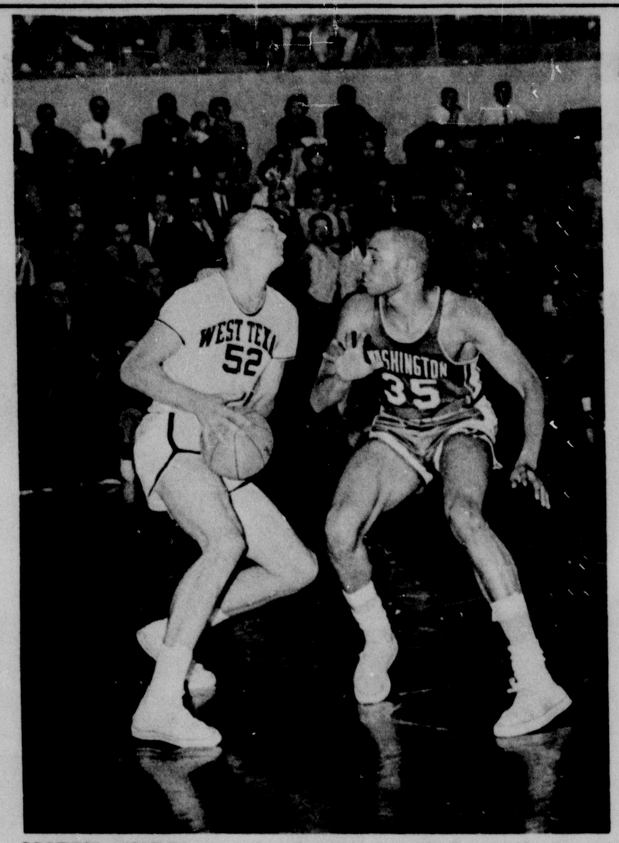
West Texas put on a last ditch rally with a full court press. Pierce hit on a close shot and Kirby Pugh followed with two line drive buckets to narrow the Bears margin to 65-63.

At this point the Bears cashed in on five straight charity tosses and put the game out of reach for the fighting Buffs.

Jackson hit his highest total of the year for Washington by canning 24 points. He was followed in the scoring column by Williams with 17 and Dancy with 13. Kirby Pugh with 17 and Scottie Pierce with 16 led the Buff scoring parade. Mitchell rang up 10 in the first half but could not find the range in the second part of the contest.

Washington came into the game with a 46 percent shooting average. But in this encounter the Bears shot at a 51.8 percent clip. West Texas hit 49.1 percent from the floor, slightly below its season average of over 52 percent.

Coach Viramontes will take the Buffs on their second longest trip of the season next week. West Texas plays New Mexico State at Las Cruces on Monday and Texas Western at El Paso on Wednesday after the Saturday game at New Mexico University. The Buffs will be underdogs in all three contests, but they were also rated the same way on the trip into Tennessee and Kentucky before the holiday break. Let's hope the trip coming up is a successful as the last journey into enemy gyms.



SCOTTIE PIERCE seems to be in a jam as George Kramer of Washington University stands between Pierce and the goal during the basketball game Monday night at West Texas State University gym. The Buffs fell to the University Bears 72-65 in the Monday night tussle.

Cage Tourney Set Saturday

Canyon freshmen and sophomore basketball teams will host cagers from three area high schools this weekend during a one-day tournament Saturday.

Shower Given Mrs. Williams

A miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss Mary Marguerite Stephens, recent bride of Jack Dean Williams, was held last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Howard Smith in Amarillo.

Hearts, ribbons and lace provided an appropriate theme for the bridal shower. The serving table, laid with a cutwork lace cloth, was highlighted with a white heart that was surrounded with blue daisies in the bride's chosen color theme of blue and white.

Mrs. N. R. Lytle presided at the guest register where approximately 55 guests signed during the afternoon calling hours of 3:30 to 7:30.

Mrs. Florene Moore presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Don Ioor served coffee. Party sandwiches, dainty cookies, nuts and mints were served at the shower.

Baptists Have Watch Program

The New Year Watch program for members of the Southside Baptist Church was held Tuesday evening at the church.

"Follow The Bamboo", a film, was presented on the program along with musical numbers by the Junior Choir and short speeches by Morris Maxwell and Jeff Smith of Amarillo. Weldon James and N. D. Carter, both of Canyon, also presented short talks during the evenings program.

A course of refreshments were served mid-way through the evening to church members who welcomed the New Year at midnight.

Eagles Win One, Lose One In Holiday Games

Holiday basketball games for the Canyon Eagles saw the Eagles A-team take a 71-34 win over Happy after a 71-65 loss to Phillips.

The boys B-team topped Happy with a 44-39 score, and the girl's team was defeated by Happy in a 44-38 tilt last week.

Results from the Eagle game with Dimmitt here on Tuesday, December 31, were not available at press time.

Steve Burgess hit the nets for a final scoring effort of 17 points last Saturday evening when Canyon Eagles played host to the Happy Cowboys and downed them with a final score of 71-34.

Burgess, high scorer for the Eagle's A-team, was attributed with all but two points scored in the second quarter.

Eddie Moudy made 17 points in the A-team bout for high honors for Happy.

A score of 44-39 resulted in a win for the Eagle's B-team over Happy in the Saturday schedule of games.

The Happy Cowgirls downed the Canyon girl's basketball team with a final tally of 44-38 last Saturday evening as Ruth Purcell, of the Eagles, hit the nets for 19 points.

Ireta Bowe was high scorer for the Happy Cowgirls with 27 points.

Phillips downed the Eagle's A-team 71-65 in a game played at Phillips on December 27. Larry Lewis of Phillips was high scorer for the game with 37 points.

Points counted for Canyon included Bobby Evans with 13, Skip Moore with 12, and Jim Whinnery and Eddie Poole, 10 points each.

The Eagles will meet Hereford there Friday evening and then travel to Muleshoe on Jan. 7 to play the Mules.

Miss Lorry Kiker arrived by jet plane on December 18th to spend the holidays with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Byars.

Miss Kiker is the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Kiker of Playa Del Rey, California, former residents of Canyon.

She spent the holidays visiting with her maternal grandparents, the Byars, and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kiker, at Happy. She returned to California last Saturday.

Eight active pallbearers included John Payne, Joe Mercer, Levi Cole, Hosea Foster, Ralph Ruthart, Charlie Upfold, Jim Upfold and Cristler Crain.

Honorary pallbearers were R. B. Gist, Sr., Wayland Angel, Frank Kimbrough, Lee Foster, Mark Foster, J. Major King, J. J. Walker, George Denny, Bill Stockett, Glenn Dowlen, and Dinsmore Mickle.

Survivors include his wife Pearl of Canyon; one daughter Mrs. J. Alvin McDonald of Canyon; one granddaughter, Mrs. Farrell Devenport; one great-grandson, Stanley M. Devenport of Amarillo, and one sister, Mrs. Rupert Betty of Chula, Missouri.

Mr. May was born in Chula, Missouri, September 27, 1880. He became ill as a young man with a lung disorder and at the age of 19 he decided to move to Texas.

He recalled in his later years how he rode a smoke-filled train from his small hometown of Chula to the booming cattle city of Fort Worth. The open plains seemed the ideal place for this young man, and Mr. May began punching cows on the Ogden Ranch in 1899.

In 1902 he became a blacksmith in the small South Plains town of Canyon. He recalled that his shop was where the Art Roberts shop now stands and his livery stable stood on the corner where Bellah's food store is located. In those days Mr. May was responsible for making all the bits, spurs and other metal pieces ranchers and farmers might need.

During his early days in Canyon the pioneer did all the iron work on the first building constructed for the teachers college, which later became a state university.

Mr. May married in 1906 in Canyon and continued with his blacksmith trade until 1933 when he began operating the G. I. Case Machinery Company. He remained with the company until 1962 when he went into full retirement.

Canyon's oldest blacksmith died at 10:45 p.m. Saturday after he had watched the Texas Panhandle grow from sprawling pasture lands into sprawling Texas towns.
